17	The Court, having conducted a	detention hearing	pursuant to 18	U.S.C. § 3142(f), and
18	based upon the factual findings and sta	tement of reasons	for detention he	ereafter set forth, finds

	DETENTION ORDER 18 U.S.C. § 3142(i) PAGE 1			15.13 Rev. 1/91

United States from Canada. The offense carries a potential maximum sentence of ten plus years. There is therefore a rebuttable presumption against defendant as to both dangerousness and flight risk, under 18 U.S.C. §3142(e).

- (2) Defendant is a Canadian citizen, with dual citizenship in the Netherlands. She has no ties to the United States. She has no significant legitimate employment, although she is alleged to have admitted to case agents that she operates a house of prostitution in Vancouver, Canada. She has some mental health issues.
- (3) The AUSA proffers that the defendant has made 17 border crossings in 2.5 years, and was let in without inspection for one-third of those crossings by one particular Canadian Border Patrol agent. On the occasion of her arrest on this occasion, she allegedly placed a call to this agent prior to her crossing and that agent came over to vouch for the defendant when she was stopped. Due to this activity, there is currently an investigation being conducted on possible border corruption.
- (4) Taken as a whole, the record does not effectively rebut the presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of the community.

It is therefore ORDERED:

- (1) Defendant shall be detained pending trial and committed to the custody of the Attorney General for confinement in a correction facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal;
- (2) Defendant shall be afforded reasonable opportunity for private consultation with
